Ever since their flourishing period in the Middle Ages, Flemish artists, art cities, houses and interiors have gained world fame. 'Flemish Style' shows how contemporary furniture and design can be fitted into old buildings in a marvellous way.

Over thirty interiors in a region from the north of France to the south of Holland were magnificently portrayed by Jan Verlinde, who works for several international magazines, and described by connoisseur Piet Swimberghe.

After 'Flemish Style', 'Paris Style' is planned for 2006 and other cities and regions will follow.
